McCRUM & DERN, [INDEPENDENT IN EVERYTHING.] EDITORS AND PROPRIETORS.

VOL. 9. ALTOONA, PA., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1864. NO. 14.

SAVE THE PER CENTAGE
BY BUYING YOUR CLOTHING FROM FIRST HANDS.

ETTINGER & TUCK, Manufacturers of and Wholesale and Retail dealers in Ready-made Clothing, would respectfully invite the attention of the public to the following facts in reference to their stock.

1st. We manufacture our own goods. They are made up in our own Store, in Philadelphia, under our immediate supervision, and we know they are well made and can be warranted and superior to the largest quantity of Ready-made clothing in the market.

EQUAL TO THE BEST,

2nd. We buy our Cloths directly from the Importers and Manufacturers, consequently we save the per centage put on by middle men.

3rd. We sell our Clothing at a reasonable percentage over the cost of our Cloths, thereby saving the purchasers of Clothing the percentage which must be added by those who buy from second hands to sell again. We retail our Clothing at the same price which other merchants pay for theirs at wholesale, consequently those who buy from us get their goods at the same price which other Clothiers pay for theirs in the city, thereby saving said Clothiers' per centage.

We have branch Stores in

where goods may be had at the same figures at which we sell them here in the city.

If any person has been told, or imagines, that Tuck's Store, in Altoona, is "played out," let such person drop into his establishment, on Main Street, and examine his goods and prices.

THE BRIDAL PARTY.

Last night a starry radiance from countless lamps was shed,
And bright along the festal board the banquet flowers were spread;
Last night a thousand hearts beat high to pleasure's thrilling call,
And the sound of happy voices made sweet music in the hall.

For there were met the innocent, the youthful and the fair,
With all their hearts untouched by age, and eyes undimed by care;
There were fair brows half hidden by their sunny wealth of curls,
And long dark braids more beautiful than all their gems and pearls.

And there were eyes, soft, lurtrous eyes, whose glances sent a thrill
To the hearts that met their eloquence, even when the voice was still;
And more, O more than this was where last night the feast was spread,
For friend met friend amid the throng and kindly words were said.

And when I sat alone and heard the wind's sad minstrelsy,
And thought of all the happiness forever shut from me,
A fount was stirred within my heart, a fount that seldom slept,
And, yielding to the gush of tears, I bowed my head and wept.

Not for the costly banquet, with its broad and starry light,
Nor for the wreath and coronal that beauty wore that night;
But a feeling came across my heart of utter loneliness,
When I thought no heart had sighed for me, no lip had smiled the less.

I wept to think not one of all that lightly moved along
Would ever pause to think of me, or miss me in the throng;
And they alone whose LIFE, and LOVE, and HOPE have been in vain
Can tell how then tears were wrung from the burning depths of pain.

LOVE AND MORAL COURAGE.

"But why don't you like him, Miss Agatha?"

"Oh—because!"

What philosopher ever solved the mystery of this true woman's reason? Because, means ten thousands thing that present dimpled lips don't chose to put in shape, it means that they don't know why perfectly well themselves, but won't tell; and not all the coaxing of curiosity can get it out of them.

And so pretty Agatha Miline played with the knot of scarlet roses, whose velvet petals glowed in her hair ribbon, and lift-up her soft hazel-brown eyes with a provokingly absent, unconscious look.

"But Agatha, pursued Ruth Ellenwood stopping for a moment in her occupation of braiding and arranging Agatha's beautiful waves of auburn gold hair. "I'm sure a pleasant partner at balls, and parties, and,—oh, Agatha! don't jerk your head so, or I shall have to braid all these strands over again!"

"Nonsense! that's no test at all!" said Agatha pettishly, the peach like crimson mounting to her cheek; "what can you tell about a young man, from mere ball room acquaintance? Any one can be agreeable enough to hold your bonnet, or bring you an ice-cream; that is if he knows enough not to tread on your toes in the polka, nor to step on your flounces in a promenade."

"I know it," said Ruth, "but the question is—"

"But the question is," interrupted the imperious young beauty, "how do I know that Mr. Fitz Aubyn, silver tongued as he is to me, with his homage and his compliments, don't go home and swear at his mother and sisters? How do I know that Mr. Jennings, who has the whole dictionary at his finger ends, dosen't cheat his landlady? What means have I of ascertaining that St. Simmons, who is such an agreeable smalltalker, does not finish his evenings in a drinking saloon? Oh, Ruth, we have tests for ascertaining spurious dollars and counterfeit bank notes, but how on earth are we to know a counterfeit husband, until he is tied to our unlucky apron-string for life."

She laughed as she sprang up to look for her bonnet, but the long eyelashes drooped with a suspicious moisture.

"Well," said Ruth carelessly patting Agatha's tiny hand, I am very, very thankful that Providence didn't make me a beauty and an heiress since it has such a tendency to awaken suspicion and distrust. But Agatha, in spite of all you have said, I feel convinced that Charles Staunton is a noble fellow."

"Very likely," said Agatha, lightly, "but here comes Fitz Aubyn, with those splended horses of his, so give me my shawl."

"And whither are your footsteps to be directed to-day?"

"Oh, we intend to go to that private view of pictures in —— street which I told you of."

And Agatha swept out of the room with the port of a queen.

The white lustre of moonlight pouring down through the circling dome of frosted glass, gave a life-like glow to the superb paintings whose guilded frames literally covered the walls of the spacious apartments. Here and there, groups of absorbed dilectant moved, with subdued whispers and brandishing opera glasses, as if it were a forbidden thing to speak above one's breath in the presence of these fair landscapes and scenes from history's page.

Directly in front of these finest works of art stood a pair who had unconsciously been the object of many a curious and whispered observation of the other sight-seers—a tall, stylish-looking young man, with an old lady leaning on his arm, whose antique dress of snuff-colored bombazine and oddly shaped beaver bonnet occasioned a great many covert smiles and half concealed titters from those present.

"Oh, by the way, Miss Milne," said Fitz Aubyn, as in their progress around the rooms this couple gradually came in view, "you have not seen the greatest curiosity of all yet."

"Where?" said Agatha, raising her opera glass.

"You are mistaken, it don't hang on the wall," said Fitz Aubyn, lauging. "Look nearer earth, if you want to see Staunton and his fossil aunt."

Agatha turned her head accordingly without remark—she smiled a little, however—'twas all Fitz Aubyn wanted.

"Should you suppose any mortal youth would have the courage to bring such a last century specimen to a place like this, where he might know he would meet all his fashionable acquaintances! Upon my word I believe he'll take her to the opera next. See him carrying her morocco bag, and cotton umbrella! Don't he remind you of Don Quixote in his youthful days?"

"Probably she has money to leave one of these days," said Agatha, the distrustful element uppermost in her mind for the moment.

"Not a solitary red cent, I know, for I have inquired. She is in reduced circumstances'—that's the term, I believe, but Staunton is very fond of her nevertheless. She has come up to town from the back woods for a few days, and——"

He paused abruptly as the very pair in question approached, still absorbed in picture gazing, "My dear Charles," said the old lady at length, "you cannot imagine what a treat this is to me—I have not seen such pictures since I was a child.—How thoughtful of you to bring me here!"

"I knew you would enjoy it, aunt."

"And you are not ashamed of your old fashioned aunt among all these gay young people?"

"On the contrary, dear aunt, I am as proud as a monarch while you are leaning on my arm."

Agatha heard it all, and she also heard him answer in reply to the gay challenge of some companion:

"Thank you, but don't count upon me as one of the party this evening at the opera. I am going with my aunt, who is passionately fond of music, so you must excuse me for once."

"I told you so!" said Fitz Aubyn, in a solo voce tone, shrugging his shoulders.—"Did you ever see such a fellow as Staunton?"

"Never," was Agatha's reply, but it was so emphatically spoken that Fitz Aubyn started. And that night while the courted beauty brushed her luxuriant hair, she paused many a time and fell into a thoughtful reverie.

"Moral courage!" she murmured to herself. "I have somewhere read that it is nobler far than the iron resolution which makes men reckless in battle. I really wonder—"

And there she stopped resolutely.

What a glorious bracing New Year's day it was! There had been just enough snow in the night to form a white glistening coal over everything, and afford an excellent excuse for the merry sleigh that darted hither and thither with streaming furs and jingling bells. All the fashionable world was astir, the gentlemen busily consulting their intermiable list of calls, and the ladies putting the last touches to their gorgeous toilet.

There were not many upon that day who received more adulation than Agatha Milne as she stood like a young empress in her splendid drawing rooms, every mirror flashing back her loveliness. Her dress was very simple—pink silk, edged around the shoulders with snowy ermine, and long sprays of jessamine drooping from her hair, yet she knew that she had never been so beautiful as now, as she listened with languid smiles to the compliments showered upon her. It was nothing new.

The gilded chandeliers had been lighted and the jeweled fingers of a tiny alabaster clock on the mantle pointed to a late hour when the peal at the door bell announced a new incursion of guests, and Mr. Fitz Aubyn entered, surrounded by a gay party of young men.

"Good evening, Miss Milne! surely I am not too late to wish you the happiest of all imaginable New Years? Whom do you suppose I saw steering in the direction of your hospitable mansion just now? Here he comes to speak for himself—the Chevalier Staunton!"

Agatha turned calmly to welcome the new comer, and the keenest eye could scarcely discern the deeper shade of color that glowed on her delicate cheek, as he quickly came to greet her.

"Fill your glasses, gentlemen," exclaimed Fitz Aubyn, holding high above his head a tiny chalice of engraven Bohemian glass, brimming with crimson wine, "let us drink to the health of our fair hostess, Miss Agatha Milne."

Impromptu toasts was received with acclamations of satisfaction, and Fitz Aubyn glanced around to see if all had followed his injunctions, ere he touched his lips to the glass.

"Come, Staunton, no lack of chivalry here; where's your glass?"

"I will drink Miss Milne's health in clear iced water with the greatest pleasure," said Staunton smiling; "but I never touch wine."

"Never touch wine! and pray why not?"

"It is against my principles," said Staunton with quiet firmness.

Fitz Aubyn curled his lip in contemptuous silence, that was several degrees harder to bear than spoken obloquy, but another young man leaned forward to interpose his word.

"Offer the wine to him yourself, Miss Milne; surely he cannot be so lost to all sense of gallantry as to refuse it from your fair hand."

Agatha had grown very pale, but without speaking, she filled one of the goblets, and held it toward Staunton.

"Will you take it from me?"

Staunton looked at her with calm gravity as he replied.

"Miss Milne, I should be a coward indeed did I allow your pursuasions to sway me from the fixed principles which are the guiding star of my life."

He bowed and withdrew. The glass fell from Agatha's hands and shivered into a thousand sparkling fragments; she bit her lip until the blood started, with a strange sympathetic thrill of exultation. Had he wavered for an instant in his determination she would have despised him.

"A very poor investment those horses of mine, and all this behavior a la good boy in story books," muttered Fitz Aubyn, about four weeks afterwards as he strode into the brilliantly lighted saloon of the club house. Waiter, bring a glass of water and brandy quick!"

"What's the matter, Fitz? you look as black as a thunder cloud," observed a by-stander who was leaning against a marble pillar and picking his teeth in the most epicurean manner.

"The matter?" Do you remember that magnificent Agatha Milne, the queen of all the beauties?"

"Of course I do; she hasn't lost her wits or property I hope?"

"No, but I've lost the latter item pretty effectually. Who do you suppose she is going to marry?"

"I am sure I cannot guess. Do tell your news at once, and don't keep a fellow in suspense."

"Well, she is going to become Mrs. Charlie Staunton, actually going to marry a man with a fossil aunt, and principles that won't allow him to drink a glass of wine! Bah! the humbug that passes current in this world."

"I could have prophesied as much before my dear boy, if you would only done me the honor to listen to me," observed the other cooly unfolding the newspaper, so as to get to the inside columns. "You gay and dashing young fellows are all very well as long as a girl wants to amuse herself; but when it comes to life-long questions, she is apt to prefer a true to a false man for a husband."

Fitz Aubyn groaned deeply, but considered his position too precarious to be worth arguing.

Meanwhile, little Ruth Ellenwood was as busy as a bee working at her cousin's wedding robe of spottless white satin, and asking ten thousand questions, the final of which always was:

"But Agatha, you would never tell why you didn't like him, and now you are just as bad—tell me, that's a darling, why your mind was changed?"

And Agatha only laughed and crimsoned and made the same old provoking answer:

"Oh—because!"

☞ An oil farm in Pennsylvania has just been sold for upwards of half a million of dollars.

TOUCHING SCENE IN FORT PICKERING.

On the 3d of April the widow of Major Booth, the late commander at Fort Pillow, arrived at Fort Pickering. Col. Jackson of the 6th U. S. Heavy Artillery had his regiment formed into line for her reception. In front of its centre stood fourteen men, as fine, brave fellows as tread the earth. They were the remnant of the first battalion of the regiment now drawn up—all who had escaped the fiendish scenes of Fort Pillow, scenes that have stamped yet deeper blackness on the infamous brow of treason.

Mrs. Booth came forward. In her hand she bore a flag, red and clotted with human blood. She took a position in front of the fourteen heroes, so lately under her deceased husband's command.

The ranks before her observed a silence that was full of solemnity. Many a hardy face showed by twitching lids and humid eyes how the sight of the bereaved lady, touched bosoms that could meet steel, and drew on the fountain of tears that had remained dry even amid the piteous sights witnessed on the battle-field after a fierce action.

Turning to the men before her, she said:

Boys, I have come from a visit to the hospital at Mound City. There I saw your comrades; wounded at the bloody struggle in Fort Pillow. There I found this flag—you recognize it. One of your comrades saved it from the insulting touch of traitors at Fort Pillow.

I have given to my country all I had to give—my husband—such a gift? Yet I have freely given him for freedom and my country.

Next to my husband's cold remains—the next dearest object left in the world—is this flag—the flag that waved in proud defiance over the works of Fort Pillow!"

Soldiers! this flag I give to you, knowing that you will ever remember the last words of my husband: "Never surrender the flag to traitors!"

Col. Jackson then received from her hand on behalf of his command, the blood-stained flag. He called upon the regiment to receive it as such a gift ought to be received. At that call he and every man of the regiment fell upon their knees, and solemnly appealing to the God of battles, each one swore to avenge their brave and fallen comrades, and never—never to surrender the flag to traitors!

The scene was one unsurpassed in emotional incident. Beside the swift rolling waters of the Mississippi—within the enclosure that bristled with the death-dealing cannon; knelt those rough soldiers, whose bosoms were heaving with emotion, and on many of whose cheeks quivered a tear they tried to hide, though it did honor to their manly natures. Beside them stood in her grief, the widow of the loved officer they had lost—and above them was held the bloody flag. That eloquent record of crime, which has capped the climax of rebellion, and which will bring a reckoning so fearful.

In few but pointed and dicisive words, Col. Alexander pledged himself and his command, to discharge to the utmost the solemn obligation of justice they had that day taken.

Col. Kappan followed him, expressing himself in favor of such retaliatory acts of justice as laws of warefare required in a case of such fiendish and wicked cruelty.

Woe to the unlucky reb who falls into the hands of any of the commands represented at this solemn declaration. The determination of the officers of the 9th U. S. Heavy Artillery is incontestible, their bravery has been tried, and they have never been found wanting.

A MEDICINE.—Abernethy's prescription to a wealthy patient was: "Let your servant bring you three or four pails of water and put it into a wash-tub; take off your clothes, get into it, and from head to foot rub yourself well with it, and you'll recover.

"This advice of yours seem very much like telling me to wash myself," said the patient.

"Well," said Abernethy, "it is open to that objection."

A BRISK SCOTCH LASSIE.—At an examination in the case of a farmer in a Scotch court, on his sister entering the box to be examined, the following conversation took place between her and the opposing agent:

"How old are you," said the lawyer.

"O, well, sir, I am an unmarried woman, and dinna think it right to answer that question."

"O yes, inform the gentleman how old you are," said the judge.

"Weel a weel, I am fifty."

"Are you not more?"

"Weel, I am sixty."

The inquisitive lawyer still farther asked if she had hopes of getting married, to which Miss Jane replied:

"Weel, sir, I winna tell a lie; I hinna lost all hope yet," And she scornfully added, "But I widna marry you, for I am sick and tired o' your palaver already."

☞ A Loyal Dutchman's toast.—"One flag, one country, swei lager!"

JOSH BILLINGS ON CATS.

I have studdyed cat clussly for years, and hav found them adickted tew a wild state. They haint got affekshun, nor virtue of anny kind; tha will skratch their best friends, and wont ketch mice unless they are hungry. It haz bin sed that tha are good to make up into sessages; but this iz a great mistake. I have bin told by a sassage maker that tha don't kompare with dogs.

Thare is one thing sartin, they are verry anxious tew liv. Yo ma turn one inside out, and hang him up bi the tale, and az soon az yu are out ov sight he will manage tew turn a back summerset and cum around awl rite in a few days. It iz verry hard wurk to looze a cat. If one gits carried oph in a bag bi mistake a grate ways into kuntry, tha wount sta lost onla a short time, but soon appear tew make the family happy with their presence.

Old maids are verry fond ov cats, for the reason i suppose that cats never marry if tha have ever so good a chanse.—Thare iz one thing about cats i don't like. If yu step on their tails bi acksident tha git mad rite oph, and, and make a grate fuss about it. Thare iz anuther thing about them, a good investment for poor folks. A pair ov cats will yield each year, without any outlay, someting like eight hundred per cat. It iz a very singular fact that cats don't like a mill-pond, i never knu one tew git drowned bi acksident.

Tha luv cream, but it seems tew be again their religgun tew tuch soap. Cats and dogs hav never bin able to agree on the main question, tha both seem tew want tne affirmative side tew onst. I think if i could hav my way there wouldn't b eny more cats borne, unless tha could sho a cirtificate ov good moral karacter. There is one more thing about cats which seems tew me tew be awl affektashun, and that iz making such a big noise under a feller's window at night, and then kall it musik. If i was to have my choise between a cat and a striped snake, i would take the snake, bekause icould git rid ov the snake bi letting him go. Thare aint no sartin wa tew kill a cat, if yu get one wurked up into sassages, and you are awl rite, jist az likely az not tha will cum to and take off a whole lot of good sassages with them.—Theze are mi views about cats, rather hastily hove together, and if i haint sed enuff agin them it iz onla bekause i lack the informashun.—The Poughkeepsian.

WATERING HORSES.—The quantity as well as quality of the water given a horse will greatly affect his condition. Perhaps no animal is more distressed by thirst than the horse, a fact not generally known, or if known not generally appreciated. Horses should be watered regularly, when not at work, provided, in the latter case that care is taken not to let them have it when overheated by work. Irregularity in the supply of water is often followed by a refusal of solid food, and more frequently by colic and founder, in consequence of his drinking inordinately when an opportunity offers. For horses, when they are not at work, it is perfectly safe to keep a supply of pure water always within their reach; but as before remarked, there is some danger in this plan when they are worked or driven, and are likely to become overheated.

There is a very certain way of determining when a horse has been neglected. If the master, on entering the stable and lifting the water bucket, finds the animal placing himself in an attitude of expectation, and eagerly gazing at the vessel, it is a point blank evidence that his usual supply of water has been withheld.—Whenever it is posible, let the horse have water from a running stream.—Stock Journal.

☞ A correspondent in Grant's army says that about 2,000 rebel prisoners were marched past a portion of the negro troops of Burnside's corps. It was amusing to hear the negroes inquire, jestingly, "How is you boss? Mighty good thing we didn't cotch you; we would never tuck ye prisoners." The prisoners became infuriated and begged to have their will of the negroes five minutes. "Remember Fort Pillow," the negroes would urge.—"We'll cut your black throats," was the threat of the others Thus the two races reviled each other. The master was prisoner; the bondman free and a soldier.

CLERICAL WIT.—A Universalist clergyman of Wisconsin, who had recently returned home from a term of service as chaplain to a regiment in the army of the Cumberland, spoke at a town meeting the other day, and in the course of his remarks touched on the atrocious barbarities of the rebels. "My friends," he said, "I have always preached to yon against any such an institution as hell, or future punishment; but my experience within the last few months has modified my opinion somewhat: I believe there is a hell provided for these wicked devils as a military necessity.

☞ In one Rhode Island regiment are fourteen brothers named Posthy. Four of them are twins. Their average hight is six feet two inches.

Amendment to the Constitution.

Among the many exciting scenes which the present campaigns, of our armies, are bringing before the minds of the people, there seem to be but few, who are aware that in less than two months, or on the first Tuesday in August, the citizens of our commonwealth will be called upon at the ballot-box, to decide as to whether our State Constitution shall be ammended by the insertion of three additional sections.

The first of these sections, which will, if adopted, be the fourth section of the third article provides for the gtanting of our soldiers in the field, the same privelege of voting which they would enjoy at their homes.

This privelege they have hertofore, and are now, by the Constitution denied. Certainly no citizens are more entitled to a voice in the choice of the officers of our Government, than they who are day by day, periling their lives to maintain that Government. We hope to see this amendment pass by a unanimous vote, and then when election day comes around again, the brave boys feeling that they are not forgotten, will step up to the polls and take an active part in the determining who shall exercise the power of making and executing the laws under which they live and battle, and for the maintainance of which they are willing to die.

The other two sections, which will be, if adopted, the 8th and 9th of the eleventh Article, have in view, first, the preventing the passage of certain bills which are in themselves objectionable, but being linked with others of importance are thus pressed through both houses. Section 8th provides that no bill shall pass the Legislature, containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title, except appropriation bills. Those who have been careful observers of Legislative proceedings, will at once recognize the importance of this amendment, as a safeguard against the pressing through of unimportant, and even ruinous measures, most generally under the superintendence of lobby members.

Section 9th provides that the Legislature shall grant no powers, or privileges, where the authority to grant such powers and privileges has been, or may hereafter be, conferred upon the courts of the Commonwealth, thus confining the granting of certain local powers and privileges to where they justly belong, the courts of their own districts and locality.

These important amendments are now before the people, and as public journalists we press upon our readers the obligations resting upon them as citizens of the noble Keystone State, to examine and duly consider this matter, so that when the first Tuesday in August comes round they may be able to vote intelligently upon these amendments.

Sometimes we hear our neighbors say, well I don't care which way the election goes, it won't materially alter my condition. You should remember you have a duty to perform to others as well as yourself; and if you feel that a certain measure will tend to the public good you are in duty bound to vote for it, or if the contrary, to vote against it. Let one and all do their duty.

OUR CALORIC.—After sundry delays in procuring the necessary fixtures to make the attachment between our new caloric engine and power press, the work has at last been completed, and all things are now working to our pleasment, and much to the satisfaction of the "boys," who have heretofore performed by the caloric. This number of our paper is printed on the "pioneer power press," driven by the pioneer caloric engine of the Juniata Valley.—Quite a crowd of persons have called to see the engine work. This is a mechanical place, and almost every man is either a builder of, or knows considerable about engines, yet our caloric is something new and has attracted much attention from machinists. Where light power is required, caloric appears to be taking the lead, for the reason that they consume so little fuel, require no water, never freeze up and cannot explode. The latter is an important consideration where the engine must often be entrusted to the care of inexperinced persons. We now consider ourselves prepared to undertake job and book work to any amount.

The Draft.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, June 2, 1864.

Messrs. Editors:—I herewith send a list of those drafted in this county. The draft took place to-day (Thursday), and passed off very quietly. HEALTH.—Of all things in the world most to be desired by persons, health ranks first, and it is an undisputable fact that most of the fearful epidemics that have at different times broken out in inland towns, sweeping off hundreds of old and young, were directly traceable to a disregard of proper sanitary precautions. Weeks ago, before the warm weather set in, we earnestly, but respectfully called the attention of our Chief Burgess and Town Council to the filthy condition of our town—to the fact that most of the gutters along the streets were filled up with mud and filth, gathered and thrown there during the winter, and to the peculiarly bad condition of many of the alleys, stables and hog pens in the most thickly settled part of the town. We had hoped that, without anything further, the citizens in the neighborhood of these nuisances would have abated them and taken such steps as would have aided their own health and comfort. In this, it seems, we were mistaken, and we were glad to see the Borough Authorities meet and pass an Ordinance to meet the cases. All that is wanting now is for them to enforce it, and we call on them to do so. We call on them to make good their proclamation. No making fish of me and flesh of another. No lopping off of small branches and allowing the trunk and root to remain. We have been requested by many persons to call their attention to the stables of the Logan House, on Virginia street. (We don't know why it should require us to mention particular places in public print, in order to attract the attention of our councilmen, but at the request of injured and suffering citizens we do so for once.) The odor from this stable is so offensive that it is almost impossible, we are in formed, for residents of houses contiguous to keep their front windows or doors open. This being the case, it is a nuisance which should be abated without delay. The authorities can scarcely expect other parts of the town to be put in proper condition while this central and most complained of nuisance remains unabated, Let the Council enforce their Ordnance against all, and all will recognize their prudence and wisdom. Will they do it?

ATTEMPTED BURGLARY.—On the night of 27th, ult., just after the Fast Line East had passed, Mr. McIntire, night clerk of the Logan House, went up stairs, and discovered that the gass in the hall which extends through the length of the building was turned down lower than usual.—Suspecting someting wrong, he advanced to the middle of the hall, and raised the light suddenly, when at the farther end of the hall he heard the exclamation, "ugh!" and looking in that direction, discovered an individual, who evidently had been attempting to effect an entrance into an adjoining room. This individual disappeared in a short hall turning to the left. Mr. McIntire, fearing lest the thief might escape, unless he had help, called Mr. Miller, whose room was near by, who immediately came to his assistance. Mr McIntire then discovered that Mr. D. Caldwell's door was standing wide open, and asked Mr. C. "what he was doing with his door open at that time of night." Mr. C. aroused and said: "Is it open? My coat is gone with thirty-five hundred dollars!" The theif was traced to the water closet, where the coat and money with a pair of nippers for opening doors, having a key in the lock from the inside, were found, but the burgler had evidently escaped to some bed room, as he could not have left the house without being discovered. Mr. McIntire's suspicions fell upon a man who the previous evening had registered his name, "John Cline," and going to his room found it unlocked but the gentleman in bed. He affected to have no knowledge of the case, but was, nevertheless arrested and committed, and now awaits trial. All honor is due to the management of the house, and to Mr. McIntire's vigilence. For not only was Mr. C.'s money restored to him, but an assurance is given to those who may visit the Logan House, that notwithstanding thieves may come in the garb of honest men, yet a close watch will be kept that no ultimate harm may befall the visitors at this excellent hotel.

COMPANY F, 76TH P. V.—Capt. Jos. R. Findley sends to his father the following list of killed and wounded, in his company, in the fight on June 1st:

Killed—Private John M. Knox.

Wounded—Color Sergt., James A. Gwin, privates Thomas Reed, William Ball, Geo. W. Gibbony, Joseph Shultz, Sanford Smith, Samuel Dell, Harry K. Rutton.

Our readers will remember that during last winter we published a letter from Jno. M. Knox, noted above as killed, detailing his experience while a prisoner in the hands of the Rebels, he having been captured at the time of Gilmore's decent upon the Rebel works on Morris Island, S. C. It may be truly said of him he "suffered, bled and died for his country."

PIC-NIC OF PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—Saturday the 28th ult., was truly a gala-day to the children of Aloona. The day previous had been fixed upon as the time for the Aunual Pic-Nic of the public schools, but alas! the morn came with a clouded sky, threatening rain, and many little hearts grew sad, for little children feel the pangs of disappointment as well as those of larger growth. The Pic-Nic was postponed until the day following, when, like the sky, the faces of five hundred children had thrown off the clouds they wore the previous day, and like the sun-light falling upon the green earth, their little eyes sent forth the sparkling light of joy.

About ten o'clock the schools from the East and west Wards fell into procession, and moved from either direction to the corner of Annie and Virginia streets, where they met and united in one.—Moving from thence they proceeded to Miller's woods, where preperations had been made for them, to enjoy themselves in various ways. And they did enjoy themselves, romping and singing—swinging and talking—eating and drinking (we hope nothing stronger than water) until the sun began to move down rapidly toward its western bed, and many little limbs grew tired—when all returned to their home pleased with their days enjoyment. All honor to those who aided in scattering these bright flowers along the childred's pathway.

ANOTHER.—The Pic-Nic of the public schools was followed, on Tuesday, the 31st ult., by the May festival of the Catholic Church in this place. The procession after forming, marched through some of the principal streets of town, the May Queen with her attendants forming quite an attraction. The procession was large, and at intervals banners bearing patriotic and religious mottoes were borne, and not the least among then all the "Stars and Stripes," the flag of the free, was seen.

They too, wound their way to Miller's woods where they spent the day in their usual happy manner. We were not present but we hear but one opinion expressed, and that is, that it was hard to beat.—They too, like those of Saturday, were favored with a beautiful day, an almost cloudless sky, and balmy breezes.

These scenes almost lead us to moralize a little, and contrast the happy condition of our own land, even now, when it is shaken by cruel war, with the condition of many lands where the gospel is not heard, and where children enjoy no such happy privileges. Little readers, you ought to feel thankful for this, and not only enjoy but improve these golden opportunities as they pass.

SAD ACCIDENT.—On the night of the 1st inst., when a Locomotive No. 249, was approaching Newton Hamilton, an explosion occurred by which the upper portion of the Locomotive was carried away, resulting in the instant death of the Engineer, Mr. Samuel Saylor, of Alexandria, Huntingdon county, who was blown to some distance from the engine, and frightfully mangled. He leaves a wife with several children, we understand. Charles Hileman, a young man about twenty years of age, son of Mr. Samuel Hileman, of this place, was fireman, and though not carried away by the explosion, nor bruised, so far as we can learn by the fragments, was nevertheless exposed to the escaping steam, which not only scalded his face and body, but being inhaled, was the cause of his death. He clung to the engine until it reached Newton Hamilton, where, after lingering about five hours, his spirit took its fight. We have not been able to learn, with any degree of certainty, to what cause the explosion is to be attributed.

DEAD.—Lieut. Robt. Clark, Co. F, 2d Pa. Reserves, and brother of Capt. John Clark, of same company, died at the residence of the latter, in this place, on the 3d inst. Lieut. Clark was wounded in the leg, while charging a rifle pit during the nine days battle, near Spottsylvania. While making the charge, his brother, Captain Clark, fell from exhaustion and the Lieutenant took charge of the company and led it on. When within about forty yards of the rebel works, a rifle ball struch him in the leg, below the knee, shattering the bone. He was carried off the field and, as soon as he recovered sufficiently to travel, he came to Altoona. The wound, however, proved to be a fatal one, and from the effect of it he died. His corpse was escorted to the cars, on Sunday evening, by a large concourse of citizens, preceeded by martial music.

BALL CLUB MEETING.—The regular Quarterly Meeting of the Mountain Base Ball Club, will be held at the office of B. F. Rose, on Thursday, June 16th, at 7½ P. M.

Letter From The Navy.

U. S. STEAMER SOMERSET,
APPALACHICOLA BAY, MAY 16TH, 1854.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Thinking that my friends at Altoona, would like to know what is going on in the East Gulf Squadron; I take the liberty of writing a few lines to you, and if you can find spare room in your paper, and think that it is worth your time and labor to publish them, you can do so.

We have a camp on a small island called St. Vincent. The camp goes by the name of Camp Somerset, and it is composed of part of a company of the 110th N. Y. Vols., and Refugees with their families, numbering 192 persons, men, women and children. The men have enlisted into the Federal army, and are thus enabled to maintain their families, who have not anything but the clothes that they have on their backs, being driven away from their homes into the swamps by the Rebels. There are about 70 men capable of bearing arms, and being anxious to go up the bay to the town of Appalachicola, to get lumber for the purpose of building huts and to obtain plunder so as to make their families comfortable, an expedition was planed by Lieut. Hunter of the 110th N. Y. Vols., and Capt. Budd of the U. S. S. Somerset, and was to be put into execution on the 9th, but the weather being very stormy it was delayed for a few days.

On the evening of the 12th, about 8, P. M. five boats containing 46 men, left St. Vincent Island under command of Lieut. Hunter, and Ensign Smith of the U. S. S. Somerset. The boats landed at Green Point on the main land. The men then took an inland route, above the town, to a road which came from the town, marching down this road so as to prevent any Rebels who happened to be in the town, from leaving.

The U. S. S. Somerset, under steam, anchored off the town before daylight, and sent two boats with about 30 men, and a 12 pound howitzer, into the town so as to aid the land force in case of necessity.

The boats landed at the warf, and a crowd of Rebels was there to meet them, but two shells from our howitzer soon scattered them. Our land force hearing the firing came into the town on a double quick, and in time to let the rebels escape; our men coming down on one street and the Rebs going up another. As our men were entering the town they met an Irishman leaving the town as fast as his legs could carry him, he was stopped and asked where he was going in such a hurry, when he said "that a lot of d—n Yankees was landing with a howitzer," and pointing in the direction told our men to hurry up and meet them, thinking all the time that our men were Rebs.—The Doctor of the 110th Vols., told him to come along, and show them where the Yankees were. When the Irishman found that he was caught he tried very hard to get out of the trap, but it was no go. We then went up along the wharf and found 10 large boats with muffled oars, which we took possession of, and took down to our boats. Part of our force that was sent out to make a reconnoisance came back with one prisoner, a sailor from the Rebel Ram Chattahoochee, and from him, we learned that an expedition, to take our vessel and the Steamer Adela, was in operation and almost succeeded.

Captain Gift, of the Rebel Ram Chattahoochee, which lies up the Appalachicola river at Columbus, with three of his Ensigns, two Engineers, and 180 men, came down the river in a small Steamer to Fort Cobb, and from the Fort to Appalachicola in boats. There being an obstruction in the way, the Steamer could not get down any farther. The town of Appalachicola was then made the place of fitting out the boats for the expidition; the oars were muffled, and paddles made for propelling the boats along, when they came close to the U. S. Steamers, grappling irons with chains, so that they could not be cut, when thrown on the deck, and every thing was fitted out so nice that they could not help taking the U. S. Steamer if they had come close enough They even had a flag made, which was for the Steamer Somerset, it is said, by the prisoners that were taken. We captured 1500 rounds of cartriges, a number of rifles and swords; a great many of them being taken by the sailors, an accurate account could not be made.

Three attempts were made to board the Steamer Adela, but they did not succeed in getting close enough to her; the first attempt was made on the 9 inst., and they were within one-fourth of a mile of her, but there was so much phosphorus in the water, and the boats made so much light, that they had to turn back, being afraid that they would be seen by the men on board of the Steamer. The 2nd and third attempts were made on the two succeeding nights, but it was windy and a heavy sea running that they dared not attempt to take the boats far from land, but they did on the night of the 11th inst., and lost one of their boats, and it was supposed the Captain was drowned, as the boat that he was in, had not returned when we captured the part of the boat fleet that was saved from the gale.

We sent out three boats to see if they could pick up any of the men that were in the Rebel boat that was swamped, and on the morning of the 14th two boats were seen, and, giving chase, we soon captured one of them in a sinking condition; the other landed at the town, and had 24 men in her, all the officers being in her, as soon as they landed they run for the swamps, and thus escaped from our men.

The boat we captured had five men in her, they were left to be picked up by our boats, because the other Rebel boat had as many men as she could carry.

The men we took prisoners, said, that all the men that were in the boat that swamped on the night of the 11th, were saved, but they lost all of their arms: there are three of them (prisoners) that belong to the army, from Fort Cobb.

Fort Cobb is situated on the Appalachicola river, about 18 miles from Appalachicola, and is armed with 8 guns and 450 men. The Rebels are about building another iron vessel called the Muscogee. If they get her finished they will have two then at Columbus but they can not get them down the river until they move the obstruction at Fort Cobb. Among the things that I have picked up at Appalachicola, is a proclamation. I give you a copy as follows:

PROCLAMATION.

BRIGADE HEAD QUARTERS,
LAKE CITY, MARCH 16TH, 1864.

CITIZENS OF EAST FLORIDA: Your section of the State has been ordered by the Confederate government to be abandon, and the enemy has been allowed to take quiet possession of your homes, without the firing of a gun. Every thing that you hold most sacred is at their mercy. Families are scattered, and for the most part destitute; and many of your wives, mothers, sisters and children, are this day, without a home.

Men of Florida! you must take their defence and that of your homes into your own hands, and that must be done quickly. Let the recent disgrace be speedily wiped out. Where is now your boasted Southren chivalry? Let your answer be in your prompt action. There is no time for words: action is required. East Florida is disgraced forever, unless you redeem her by your own promtitude and valor. I feel assured that you will do so, and at once. Begin forthwith—form Guerrilla Companies numbering 30 or more, mounted or not, for a year's service. Bring your trusty rifles and double barrels with you. Ammunition will be furnished you. Make your rendezvous at Lake City, Sanderson and Baldwin, and as fast as organized let officers report to me for service.

By order of

Brig. Gen'l FLOYD,
Comg. Fla. Troops.

B. F. SIMMONS,
Asst. Adjt. Gen'l & Chief of Staff.

Here is another document which I found:—

"We would remark that for prudential motives, the stock of cotton appearing in the above statment, has been removed to the interior, where it will be secured against the Vandalism of the Lincolnites."

There was no signature.

I remain yours,

G. W. G., Jr.
East Gulf Squadron.

A. M. L. & R. R. A.—A special meeting of Board of Directors held May 27th, 1864. Dr. J. M. Gemmill in the chair. Members present, Messrs. Gemmill, Reilly, Adlum, Bishop, J. S. Mann, Neff, and G. F. Huff.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved.

Written communications being in order, a communication from Max Rubenack was read, tendering his resignation of the office of Recording Secretary, which, on motion of Mr. Bishop, was accepted.

Nominations for the office of Recording Secretary being in order, Messrs. Hicks, Ketchell, and Hutchinson were nominated.

First ballot was then taken, resulting in no choice. A second ballot was then proceeded to, in which Mr. Hicks received a majority of the votes cast and was declared elected.

Mr. Neff offered the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, Max Reibenack has resigned the office of Recording Secretary of the Altoona Mechanics Library and Reading Room Association, and as chairman of the committee on outstanding dues, and whereas, his efficiency as an officer and his gentlemanly and obliging deportment demands some recognition at the hands of the association, therefore,

Resolved, That this association deeply regrets the necessity which compels him to sever his official connection with it, and that we tender him the thanks of the Association for the able and satisfactory manner in which he has discharged his official duties.

Resolved, That the Corresponding Secretary be instructed to inform him of the action of this body in his behalf.

On motion, adjourned.

GEO. F. HUFF,
Secretary pro tem.

☞ "Pap" Allison, as he is familiarly termed, requests us to say that he has, at his store, on the corner of Allegheny and Branch streets, at the Greensburg railroad crossing, a full stock of provisions, such as patatoes, meat, spices, eggs, fish, flour, coffee, tea sugar, salt, and everything in that line. Also tobacco, segars, pens, pencils, note and letter paper, ink and the finest stock of envelopes to be found in the town. We know his envelopes are good and he sells them at low prices. If you want anything in this line, call on Mr. Allisson, and he will sell to you at the most reasonable figure.

NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENCY.—Now that the time for another election of Chief Magistrate is drawing near, politicians are busily at work preparing for the contest, which promises to be a spirited one whether closely contested or not. A few days ago a meeting was held in Cleveland Ohio, composed of delegates from all, or nearly all of the loyal States, who organized a party which we suppose from the tone, of the speeches there delivered, may be known as the Radical Democracy.

With great unanimity of feeling they nominated Gen. John C. Fremont of New York, for the Presidency, and Gen. John Cochrane of the same State, for Vice Presidency. As both these Military Chieftains are now in the field, having signified their acceptance of the nomination, we may suppose they are ready for the fight and desire the patronage and assistance of the American public. As to ourselves, we wish both the candidates an easy life, and as playing President seems to be somewaht laborious, we have thought to cast our vote for them to remain in their present quiet positions. On Tuesday of the present week, the Republican Convention met in the City of Baltimore, and effected first a temporary organization, by placing Rev. Dr. Breckenridge of Kentucky, in the chair. After which a permanant organization was entered into, with Gov. Dennison, of Ohio, for chairman.

The first day was occupied in organization and speech making. On Wednesday, President Lincoln, was re-nominated by acclamation, and Andrew Johnson, of Tennessee, was made the unanimous choice for the Vice Presidency. Thus the Republican party have thrown their banner to the breeze inscribed "Lincoln and Johnson." We have not yet seen the platform, and cannot say what additional planks, if any, have been placed thereon. The regular Democratic Convention will meet in Chicago soon, when the triangle will be completed, and the ball be fully opened.

HUZZA FOR BIRMINGHAM.—Three ladies of Birmingham and vicinity, viz:—Miss Marry Christ, Miss Mary Thompson and Mrs. Stephens, formed themselves into a committee, and volunteered to collect funds for the Christian Commission. Their plan is to go from house to house, stop those they meet on the way, make known their business, speak in behalf of the wounded and dying soldiers, and solicit contributions. Within a few days they have raised over one hundred dollars, which has been forwarded. They hope to be able to make another remittance within a week or two. They purpose continuing in this work of Love and Humanity during the war. Any person forwarding contributions to either of the above named ladies, at Birmingham, Huntingdon county, may rest assured the sum will be faithfully forwarded. A record is kept of the names of contributors, with the sum annexed. Who could refuse to contribute when thus appealed to? May heaven reward the ladies for their devotion to their country's service.

COOL.—It may not be generally known that our friend Tom. Vickroy has opened up an "Ice Cream Saloon," in the building, once occupied by Jesse Smith, as a hat store, opposite the Lutheran Church, on Virginia street. Whether you were aware of it or not, it is nevertheless true.—And to satisfy yourself of the fact, you need only walk up some of these warm evenings, or if you perfer it in the heat of the day, and have your outer man made more comfortable by the delicious cooling process Tom has put in opperation, at a dime a trip. We have only to say, and that from experience, that his cream is quite a number of degrees cooler than the air in our press room, where the little caloric is in opperation. More pleasing by far to the sight than duns, and more pleasant to the taste than—Whew! hold your hat, and Tom. pass us around another plate—we'll take "Lemon" this time.

110TH REGT. P. V.—Lieut. Frank Stewart furnishes the following partial list of causualties in the above regiment during the nine days battle:

Killed—Lieut. Jno. W. Manning, co. H; Jno. White, co. A; J. B. Musser and Dice Ramsey, co. B; Thos. Greenland, Albert Andrews and J. Hertzel, co. C; Anthony Dougherty, co E; — Cowen, co H; H. Woodruff and Jos. Lavis, co I.

Wounded—Col. Isaac Rodgers, mortally; Adj't W. F. Cunningham, sabre cut right wrist; Lieut. Wm. Shelow, co. A, wounded in leg; Segt. Jos. R. Goss, W. Iseit and Richard Newman, co A; Wm. Livingston, John Stewart and Miles McCartney, co. B; Alex. Hays, co. C; Segts. Holland and Bentley, co. E; 1st Sergt. Jacob Beckhart, 2d Sergt. Solomon Beyer, 3d Sergt. Thomas Beamer, Corp. Jacob Bossert, John Wallace, David Burley and Thomas Montgomery, co. H.

All the Sergeants but one, in co. H, were wounded.

THE DRAFT.—It is estimated that the draft which will take place in the several States that have not yet filled their quotas will add one hundred thousand men to the army. It is also estimated that the amount of groceries and provisions kept on hand at Fritchey's is sufficient to supply everybody and all their friends. He has just added to his stock 200 bushels of prime, river, seed potatoes. Farmers and others should make a note of that.

NOTICE.—Certain persons have insinuated and circulated the report that I am showing card pictures that I did not execute. There are no pictures in my cases or frames that I did not execute, and am prepared to do the same if not better work any time that persons call on me. Gallery on Virginia street, opposite Kessler's Drug store.

THE GREAT SECRET.—One fact has come to be pretty universally recognized, viz: that fortunes are not made in trade without some forms of advertising. There are more fortunes established in a judicious system of advertising than in anything else, and knowing exactly how to get trade.—The public have become accustomed to having the claims of all trading establishments presented to them in some form of advertisement. Each man has his own way of expressing himself, and each trade has its own special wants. There is the fact, of course, that the absolute necessaries of life, must be bought somewhere, and people will buy where they can buy the cheapest and best. This accounts for Fritchey's great "run of custom." His prices are reasonable, and his stock unsurpassed in the county.

CONCERTS.—We learn that Miss Maria Shoemaker, music teacher, intends giving two concerts on the evenings of Thursday and Friday, June 23d and 24th, to show the public the advancement made by the pupils under her charge. We have before said that Miss Shoemaker was one of the best music teacher in the country, and we feel sure that she would not venture a public concert with her pupils were she not sure it would be a success. Look out, then, for an entertainment worth attending. The Philharmonic Association will also take part in the concerts and add to their attracti veness. We shall have more to say of the affair in our next issue, when the arrangemens will be more nearly complete

MARRIED.

On the 19th ult., by Rev. A. H. Sembower, Mr. STEPHEN AIKEN to Miss AMY RIDENOUR, all of this place.

That's all right. Stephen deserves a good wife, for he always did his duty, both as soldier and citizen. We welcome him and his fair bride to the state of matrimony, and wish them all the joys imaginable.

On the 2d inst., at the residence of the bride's father, by Rev. D. H. Barrah, Mr. WILLIAM C. KELLER, of Altoona, to Miss VENE PATTERSON, of Gaysport, Blair county.

Sensible to the last? William, here's our ☞. Please accept, also, our best wishes for your future happiness and prosperity; a long life of matrimonial bliss, without a change of schedule.

DIED.

On Friday the 3d inst., at the residence of her son-in-law, Thos. Elway, Esq., in this place, Mrs. MARY FUGATE, in the 57th year of her age.

She bore all her afflictions with true Christian heroism, ever expressing a readiness to yield to the will of Him who is too wise to err. Early in life she gave her heart to God, and united with the Baptist Church, of which she remained a member until her death, when, having adorned her profession on earth, she went to join the church of the redeemed on high, for He who had been her joy in life was her comfort and her stay in a dying hour. We heard her in the whispered breathings of her last hours say:

"Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove."

And, in answer to that prayer,

The "Holy Spirit, Heavenly Dove"
Came by on noiseless wing,
And her freed spirit bore aloft,
To where, in notes by love made soft.
The sweet-voiced angels sing.

And joining in the chorus there,
Near by the throne above,
To God she lifts her notes of praise,
And swells with sainted ones those hys,
That tell redeeming love.

UNITED STATES TAXES.

Important to the Tax Payers of Blair County.

HAVING concluded to dispense with the services of a Deputy Collector in Blair county the tax payers are hereby notified that all taxes assessed up to and including the list for April, will be paid to Mr. Bell as heretofore.

The annual list for 1864, the May list, and all subsequent lists will be collected by James Clark, esq., in the townships of Snyder, Antes, Tyrone, and Tyrone city, and by myself in the balance of the county.

In collecting the annual list, appointments will be fixed at convenient places, of which public notice will be given.

For the convenience of manufacturers and others who have monthly taxes to pay, I will spend the third Tuesday of every month in Hollidaysburg, and the following day in Altoona, at which times and places they can call and pay their taxes. If not thus paid, the money, or check for the same, can be forwarded by mail to me at Johnstown.

The law imperatively demands that the tax must be paid before the close of the month, and it is my duty to enforce the law without respect to persons. Delinquents will find ten per cent. added to the amount and a warrant in the hands of a special deputy for the collection of all taxes not paid as above stated.

Mr. Clark will be at Tyrone on the third Friday in each month. Remittances can be made to him at Birmingham.

SOMETHING INTERESTING TO THE PUBLIC.

NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY YOUR SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS.

THE largest stock of Ladies' Dress Goods ever brought to town has just been opened at the "Green Corner," East Altoona, and will be sold for CASH at prices that defy competition. We are determined that our side of town shall take the lead, and that the "Green Corner" shall be foremost in the van. Our stock of Dress Goods consists of

Plain and Fancy Dress Silks, Merinoes, Palmetto Cloths, Coburgs, Fancy Alpacas, All-Wool Plaids, Plain and Figured Delaines,

Fancy Prints, and a great variety of other goods, of different styles and textures. In fact there is nothing the ladies can desire for wear that we cannot furnish them with.—We have also a large assortment of Ladies' Coats, Shawls, Balmorals, Hoop Skirts, Shoes, Gaiters &c.

☞ Yes, and we were almost forgetting to mention our large stock of

CARPETS, GROCERIES, QUEENSWARE, ETC., ETC.

Everybody should know that money can be saved by buying Goods from us. For instance, we are selling good Calicoes as low as 16 cts per yard, Muslins as low as 18 cts., Brown Sugar for 11 cts. per lb., and good Teas for 90 cts.

U. S. 10-40 Bonds.

These Bonds are issued under Act of Congress of March 3 1864, which provides that all Bonds issued under this Act shall be EXEMPT FROM TAXATION by or under any state or municipal authority. Subscription to these Bonds are received in United States notes or notes of National Banks. They are TO BE REDEEMED IN COIN, at the pleasure of the Government, at any period not less than ten nor more than forty years from their date, and until their redemption FIVE PER CENT. INTEREST WILL BE PAID IN COIN, on Bonds of not over one hundred dollars annually and on all other Bonds semi-annually. The interest is payable on the first days of March and September in each year.

Subscribers will receive either Registered or Coupon Bonds, as they may prefer. Registered Bonds are recorded on the books of the U. S. Treasurer, and can be transferred only on the owner's order. Coupon Bonds are payable to bearer, and are more convenient for commercial uses.

Subscribers to this loan will have the option of having their Bonds draw interest from March 1st, by paying the accrued interest in coin—(or in United States notes, or the notes of National Banks, adding fifty per cent. for premium,) or receive them drawing interest from the date of subscription and deposit. As these Bonds are their value is increased from one to three per cent. per annum, according to the rate of tax levies in various parts of the country.

At the present rate of premium on gold they pay

OVER EIGHT PER CENT INTEREST

in currency, and are of equal convenience as a permanent or temporary investment.

It is believed that no securities offer so great inducements to lenders as the various descriptions of U. S. Bonds In all other forms of indebtedness, the faith or ability of private parties or stock companies or separate communities only is pledged for payment, while for the debts of the United States the whole property of the country is holden to secure the payment of both principal and interest in coin.

These Bonds may be subscribed for in sums from $50 up to any magnitude, on the same terms, and are thus made equally available to the smallest lender or the largest capitalist. They can be converted into money at any moment, and the holder will have the benefit of the interest.

It may b useful to state in this connection that the total Funded Debt of the United States, on which interest is payable in gold, on the 3d day of March, 1864, was $768,965,000. The interest on this debt for the coming fiscal year will be $45,937,126, while the customs revenue in gold for the current fiscal year, ending June 30th, 1864, has been so far at the rate of over $100,000,000 per annum.

It will be seen that even the present gold revenues of the Government are largely in excess of the wants of the Treasurer for the payment of gold interest, while the recent increase of the tariff will doubtless raise the annual receipts from customs on the same amount of importations, to $150,000,000 per annum.

Instructions to the National Banks acting as loan agents were not issued from the United States Treasury until March 26, but in the first three weeks of April the subscriptions averaged more than TEN MILLIONS A WEEK

Subscriptions will be received by the

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOsing certain Amendments to the Constitution.

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met, That the following amendments be proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article thereof:

There shall be an additional section of the third article of the Constitution, to be designated as section four, as follows:

"SECTION 4. Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in any actual military service, under a requisition from the President of the United State, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in all elections by the citizens, under such regulations as are, or shall be, prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place.

"SECTION 5. There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution, to be designated as section eight, and nine, as follows:

"SECTION 8. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature, containing more than one subject, which shall be clearly expressed in the title, except appropriation bills."

"SECTION 9. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature granting any powers, or privileges, in any case, where the authority to grant such powers, or privileges, has been, or may hereafter be, conferred upon the courts of this Commonwealth."

PENNSYLVANIA, SS:

SEAL

I do hereby certify that the foregoing is a full, true and correct copy of the original Joint Resolution of the General Assembly, entitled "A Joint Resolution proposing certain Amendments to the Constitution," as the same remains on file in this office.

IN TESTIMONY whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the Secretary's office to be affixed, the day and year above written.

ELI SLIFER,
Secretary of the Commonwealth.

The above Resolution having been agreed to by a majority of the members of each House at two successive sessions of the General Assembly of this Commonwealth, the proposed amendment will be submitted to the people, for their adoption or rejection, on THE FIRST TUESDAY OF AUGUST, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four, in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article of the Constitution, and the act, entitled "An Act prescribing the time and manner of submitting to the people, for their approval and ratification or rejection, the proposed amendments to the Constitution," approved the twenty-third day of April, one thousand eight hundred and sixty-four.

HOSTETTER'S

CELEBRATED

STOMACH BITTERS.

A pure and powerful Tonic, corrective and alterative, of wonderful efficacy in disease of the STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS.

Cures Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Headache, General Debility, Nervousness, Depression of Spirits, Constitution, Colic, Intermittent Fevers, Cramps and Spasms, and all Complaints of either Sex, arising from Bodily Weakness, whether inherent in the system or produced by special causes.

NOTHING that is not wholesome, genial and restorative in its nature enters into the composition of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. This popular preparation contains no mineral of any kind; no deadly botanical element; no fiery excitant; but it is a combination of the extracts of rare balsamic herbs and plants with the purest and mildest of all diffusive stimulants.

It is well to be forearmed against disease, and, so far as the human system can be protected by human means against maladies engendered by an unwholesome atmosphere, impure water and other external causes, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS may be relied on as a safeguard.

In districts infected with Fever and Ague, it has been found infallible as a preventive and irresistible as a remedy, and thousands who resort to it under apprehension of an attack, escape the scourge; and thousands who neglect to avail themselves of its protective qualities in advance, are cured by a very brief course of this marvelous medicine. Fever and Ague patients, after being plied with quinine for months in vain, until fairly saturated with that dangerous alkaloid, are not unfrequently restored to health within a few days by the use of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

The weak stomach is rapidly invigorated and the appetite restored by this agreeable Tonic, and hence it works wonders in cases of DYSPEPSIA and in less confirmed forms of INDIGESTION. Acting as a gentle and painless appetient, as well as upon the liver, it also invariably relieves the CONSTIPATION superinduced by irregular action of the digestive and secretive organs.

Persons of feeble habit, liable to Nervous Attacks, Lowness of Spirits and Fits of Languor, find prompt and permanent relief from the Bitters. The testimony on this point is most conclusive, and from both sexes.

The agony of BILLIOUS COLIC is immediately assuaged by a single dose of the stimulant, and by occasionally resorting to it, the return of the complaint may be prevented.

As a General Tonic, HOSTETTER'S BITTERS produce effects which must be experienced or witnessed before they can be fully appreciated. In cases of Constitutional Weakness, Premature Decay and Debility and Decrepitude arising from OLD AGE, it exercises the electric influence. In the convalescent stages of all diseases it operates as a delightful invigorant. When the powers of nature are relaxed, it operates to re-enforce and re-establish it.

Last, but not least, it is The only Safe Stimulant, being manufactured from sound and innocuous materials, and entirely free from the acid elements present more or less in all the ordinary tonics and stomachics of the day.

No family medicine has been so universally, and, it may be truly added, deservedly popular with the intelligent portion of the community, as HOSTETTER'S BITTERS.

Prepared by HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Sold by all Druggists, Grocers and Storekeepers everywhere.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor, as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it, and I am not dependant upon any one tohfit me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

SCROFULA AND RHEUMATISM.

CASE OF DANIEL A. BOYD.

PITTSBURGH, December 31, 1861.

DR. G. H. KEYSER: I take pleasure in making this voluntary statement in favor of a medicine made by you, called "Lindsey's Blood Searcher." I have suffered for five years from Scrofula, which broke out in my head and forehead, so as to disfigure me very much, and took off the hair when the disease made its appearance: it also broke out on my arm above and below the elbow, and eat into the skin and flesh so as to expose a fearful looking sore. The disease on my head went so far that several small pieces of bone came out. I was very weak and low spirited, and had given up all hopes of ever getting well, as I had tried several skilful physicians, and they did me no good. In September last, 1861 I was induced to try "Lindsey's Improved Blood Searcher." I must confess I had no faith in patent medicines, but after I had used three bottles of Blood Searcher, the ulcers on my head and arm began to heal. I have now taken eight or ten bottles, and my head and arm are entirely well, except the scars remaining from the sores. I will also state that I had the Rheumatism very bad in my arms and legs. The Blood Searcher also cured the Rheumatism. I am now a well man, over forty years ofage, and I feel as supple and young as I did when I was twenty, and increased in weight twenty pounds. I would also state that when I stooped to lift anything heavy the blood ran out of the sore.

Dr. Keyser had a photograph taken of me by Mr. Cargo, the artist, after I began to get well. It does not show my appearance as bad as it was before I commenced taking the medicine. You can see the photographs, one of which is now in my possession, also at Dr. Keyser's 140 Wood street. I would also state that I took the Blood Searcher which was made before Dr. Keyser commenced making it. Although it helped me some, I did not recover until I got the kind made by Dr. Keyser himself. One bottle of this did me more good than two of the old. I believe it is a great deal stronger and better. I have recommended the Blood Searcher to a great many of my friends for various diseases, and I believe it has helped the whole of them. DANIEL A. BOYD.

ADDITIONAL CERTIFICATE OF DANIEL A. BOYD

DR. KEYSER: It is twenty months since I gave you my certificate in respect to the cure of my head and arm by the Blood Searcher, prepared by you. I was told by several people who have no faith in patent medicines that my head would get sore again in less than six months, and there is no appearance of its getting sore again. It is as well now as the day I gave you my certificate. If you like to publish this you may do so. DANIEL A. BOYD,

No. 4, Pine street, Pittsburgh, Pa.

PITTSBURGH, September 1st, 1863.

Mr. Boyd's likeness before and after he was cured can be seen at Roush's Drug Store.

ANOTHER GREAT CURE BY THE BLOOD SEARCHER.

DR. GEORGE H. KEYSER.—Dear Sir: Actuated by the sincerest feelings of gratitude, I take pleasure in adding the case of my son to the already many testimonials in favor of the "IMPROVED BLOOD SEARCHER," prepared by you, hoping that others afflicted as my son was, may thereby become induced to use the BLOOD SEACHER, and be rescued from a miserable condition. My little boy of six years of age became afflicted with sore eyes. I took him to five of the most eminent Doctors of Pittsburg; they pronounced it Scrofula, but they could not help him. I was induced to try the BLOOD SEARCHER. I got two bottles; the first bottle I did not notice any benefit from, the second is not quite finished, and his eyes seem to be quite well, although I intend to use another bottle or two to make sure of it.

Yours truly, SARAH CLARK, O'Hara street.

SORE EYES.

DR. GEO. H. KEYSER: My sister had putrid sore eyes, which affected her sight to almost total blindness. I was recommended to try your BLOOD SEARCHER. I bought one bottle, which she took, and she is entirely well. I would recommend it to others similarly afflicted, as I think there is not a better medicine to be found. Wishing you a hearty success, I remain,

Yours truly, MARY T. COUP.
By her brother, HENRY D. COUP.

PALSY CURED.

DR. GEO. H. KEYSER: I have been afflicted with paralysis of the limbs for four months, and after doctoring a long time to no purpose, Mr. Walker, of this place, got me to get one bottle of your BLOOD SEARCHER. I did so, and am now entirely well for which I am very thankful to you. HARRISON BRYNER, Connellsville, Pa.

PAIN IN THE SIDE.

I have been afflicted with a pain in the side for a long time, and one bottle of Improved Blood Searcher cured me sound and well. I had tried everything that I could think of, and had consulted the best doctors in the county and received no benefit until I used one bottle of the Blood Searcher, which cured me sound and well.

JAMES SLIUSMAN,
New Haven, Fayette county.

SKIN DISEASE "BREAKING OUT."

DR. GEORGE H. KEYSER: I have had a breaking out on the skin for six months, and after using everything I could hear of, Mr. Walker advised me to use one bottle of your Blood Searcher. I did so, and find great relief, so much so, that I think I am entirely well, and recommend it to others for the same disease. P. I. V. BRADY.

Connellsville, March 2d, 1863.

SCROFULA.

DR. GEORGE H. KEYSER: My little girl was taken with Scrofula, the same way that her brother was taken, and I went to Mr. Walker and got two bottles of Blood Searcher, and she is now well. Her brother sent his certificate last fall, and I want you to have her's. BELINDA SHAW.

Connellsville, March, 1863.

PILES OF TWENTY YEARS STANDING CURED.

Below will be found a certificate from one of the most respectable citizens of Wilkins township in regard to Dr. Keyser's Lindsey's Blood Searcher. The Doctor's certificates are within reach, and no one need be deceived in regard to his preparations.

DR. GEO. H. KEYSER:—I became afflicted with the Piles about twenty years ago, and every year they were growing worse, so as to trouble me very much, so much so at times as to unfit me for work. Sometimes I was so bad that I could not do anything on account of them, they came put on me as large as a hickory nut. I had tried a great deal of medicine for them. I used to buy and take whatever I could hear of or read of in circulars and pamphlets that fell in my way, but I could not get cured, sometimes they would do me some good for a little while, but afterwards they would return again as bad as ever. I also applied to two Doctors who visited me at my house and gave me some medicine but it would not do, I could not get well.—Over a year ago I got anadvertisement of your Lindsey's Blood Searcher, made by yourself—when you sold it to me you told me one bottle would not cure me, and that my whole system would have to be renewed by the medicine before I got well. I bought one bottle and took it home with me and used it according to your directions. I then called to see you again, when you said I could not expect much benefit from one bottle. I bought it on, one bottle at a time, until I had used five bottles. After this quantity had been used, I was entirely well of the Piles, which had tortured me for twenty years. In other respects my health is improved, and I am as well as could be expected for one of my age, being sixty years past. I have been well now for six months, and there is no appearance of a return of the disease. I can do any kind of farming work now without the Piles coming down and hurting me. I can pitch hay, chop wood, lift, or do any kind of work which before used to hurt me. When I found out your Blood-Searcher I kept on taking it until I got entirely well. I consider it my duty to make my case known to the country for the benefit of others who may be suffering as I was, and do not know the value of your medicine.—You may publish this if you like—I live in Wilkins Township, and will be pleased to satisfy any one of the truth of this certificate if they wish to call on me.

ELLIOTT DAVIS.

December 24th, 1863.

DR. WISHART'S

PINE TREE

TAR CORDIAL

IS THE VITAL PRINCIPLE OF THE PINE TREE

Obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

Have you a Cough? Have you a Sore Throat? Have you any of the premonitory symptoms of that most fatal disease, Consumption?

Those who should be warned by these symptoms generally think lightly of them until it is too late. From this fact, perhaps more than any other, arises the sad prevalence and fatality of disease which sweeps to the grave at least "one-sixth" of death's victims.

Consumption has destroyed more of the human family than any other disease, and the best physicians for many years have despaired of a cure, or a remedy that would heal the lungs, but for more than two hundred years the whole medical world has been impressed that there was a mysterious power and efficiency in the Pine Tree Tar to heal the lungs; therefore they have recommended the use of Tar Water, which in many cases had a good effect: but how to combine the medical properties so as to heal the lungs, has ever been a mystery until it was discovered by Dr. L. Q. C. WISHART, of Philadelphia, Pa., the proprietor of "Wishart's Fine Tree Tar Cordial."

Many, not only of the people, but physicians of every school and practice, are daily asking me, "What is the principal or cause of your success in the treatment of Pulmonary Consumption?" My answer is this:

The invigoration of the digestive organs, the strengthening of the debilitated system, the purification and enrichment must expel from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds. While this is effected by the powerful alternative (changing from disease to health) properties of the Tar Cordial, its healing and renovating principle is also acting upon the irritated surfaces of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part relieving pain, subduing inflamation, and restoring a healthful tendency. Let this two-fold power, the healing and the strengthening, continue to act in connection with Nature's constant recuparative tendency, and the patient is saved, if he has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.

I ask all to read the following certificates. They are from men and women of unquestionable worth and reputation.

DR. WISHART—Dear Sir:—I had a very dreaful cough and sore throat for one year, and my whole system was fast giving way, and I was prostrated on my bed with but little hope of recovering. My disease baffled the power of all medicines, and in a short time I must have gone to my grave, but thank God, my daughter-in-law would not rest until she went to your store, No. 10, N. Second street, and related my case to you, purchased one bottle of your Pine Tree Tar Cordial and I commenced to use it, and in one week I was much better, and after using three bottles I am perfectly well, and a wonder to all my friends, for they all pronounced me past cure. Publish my case if you think proper.

REBECCA HAMILTON,
No. 1321 Wylie street, Philadelphia.

Dr. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial is an infallible cure for Bronchitis, Bleeding of the Lungs, Sore Throat and Breast, Inflamation of the Lungs.

MR. WARD says:

DR. WISHART—Sir:—I had Bronchitis, Inflammation of the Lungs, Shortness of Breath, and Palpitation of the Heart in their worst forms: I had been treated by several of the most eminent physicians in Philadelphia, but they could not stop the rapid course of my disease, and I dispared of ever being restored to health. I was truly on the verge of the grave. Your Pine Tree Tar Cordial was highly recommended to me by a friend; I tried it, and am thankful to say that, after using four large and and one small, bottles, I was restored to perfect health. You can give reference to my house, No. 968 N. Second street, or at my office of Recever of Taxes, form 9 A. M. to 2 P. M., corner of Chestnut and Sixth streets. JOHN WARD.

Read the following from Utica:

DR. WISHART—Dear Sir:—I take pleasure in informing you through this source that your Pine Tree Tar Cordial, which was recommended for my daughter by Dr. J. H. Hall, of this city, has cured her of a cough of more than five months standing. I had thought her beyond cure, and had employed the best medical Aid without any benefit. I can cheerfully recommend for those similarly afflicted as I know of many other cases besides that of my daughter that it has entirely cured of long standing coughs. Yours respectfully, JOHN V. PARKER, Daguerrean Artist.

* * * * *:—I have used Dr. Wishart's Pine Tree Tar Cordial in my family, and can cordially recommend it as a valuable and safe medicine for colds, coughs and to those predisposed to consumption.

Dr. G. A. FOSTER 102 Genesee street.

Utica, NEW YORK.

The above are a few among the thousands which this great remedy has saved from an untimely grave.

We have thousands of letters from physicians and druggists who have prescribed and sold the Tar Cordial saying that they have never used or sold a medicine which gave such universal satisfaction.

The Tar Cordial, when taken in connection with Dr. Wishart's Dyspepsia Pills, is an infalliable cure for dyspepsia.

The PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL, will cure Coughs, Sore Throat and Breast, Bronchitis, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Diphtheria, and is also an excellent remedy for diseases of the kidneys and female complaints.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

Good News for the Unfortunate!

THE LONG SOUGHT FOR

DISCOVERED AT LAST

CHEROKEE REMEDY

—AND—

CHEROKEE INJECTION

Compounded from Barks, Roots & Leaves.

CHEROKEE REMEDY, the great Indian Diuretic cures all diseases of the various organs, such as Incontinence of the Urine, Inflamation of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Stone in the Bladder, Stricture, Gravel, Gleet, Gonorrhœa, and is especially recommended in these cases of Fluor Albus (or Whites in females) where all the old nauseous medicines have failed.

It is prepared in a highly concentrated form, the dose only being from one to two teaspoonfuls three times per day.

It is diuretic and alternative in its action; purifying and cleansing the blood causing it to flow in all of its original purity and vigor; thus removing from the system all pernicious causes which have induced disease.

CHEROKEE INJECTION is intended as an ally or assistant to the Cherokee Remedy, and should be used in conjunction with that medicine in all cases of Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Fluor Albus or Whites. Its effect are healing soothing and demulcent: removing all scalding, heat, chordee and pain, instead of the burning and almost unendurible pain that is experienced with nearly all the cheap quack Injections.

By use of the Cherokee Remedy and Cherokee Injection —the two medicines at the same time—all improper discharges are removed, and the weakened organs are speedily restored to full vigor and strength.

For full particulars get our pamplet from any drug store in the country, or write to us and we will mail free to any address, a full treatise.

Price, Cherokee Remedy, $2 per bottle, or three bottles for $5.

Price, Cherokee Injection, $2 per bottle or three bottles for $5.

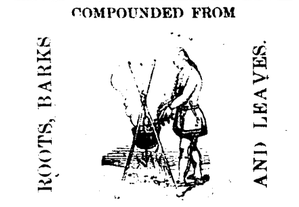
THE GREAT

INDIAN MEDICINE

COMPOUNDED FROM



CHEROKEE CURE!

An unfailing cure for Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, and all deseases caused by self-pollution; such as, Loss of Memory, Universal Lassitude, Pains in the Back, Dimness of Vision, Premature Old Age, Weak Nerves, Difficulty in Breathing, Trembling, Wakefulness, Eruptions on the Face, Pale Countenance, Insanity, Consumption, and all the Direful Complaints caused by departing from the path of nature.

This medicine is a simple vegetable extract, and one on which all can rely, as it has been used in our practice for many years, and with thousands treated, it has not failed in a single instance. Its curative powers have been sufficient to gain victory over the most stubborn case.

To those who have trifled with their constitution until they think themselves beyond the reach of medical aid, we would say, Despair not! the CHEROKEE CURE will restore you to health and vigor, and after all quack doctors have failed!
